

Enterprise for Legal

Data transformation – text based output into professional looking documents

Enterprise for Legal is an advanced document composition engine designed to streamline billing and reporting processes, expedite document design, reduce data conversion, document production and distribution costs.

Enterprise for Legal

Enterprise for Legal has been designed to cater for the needs of the most challenging billing and reporting environments. Instead of users having to design each individual document format, Enterprise for Legal automatically creates an unlimited range of readable, professionally formatted documents.

The user friendly design interface allows you to quickly compose and customise templates, specifying how to extract, render and distribute output. Rule based logic is supported allowing for limitless output styles and delivery from a single smart template.

The table below illustrates the most common document types and output formats created by Enterprise for Legal. Please note that this is not a comprehensive list.

Document Types	Output Formats
Draft Billing	MS Word & Excel
Invoicing	Web Pages
Reporting	Adobe PDF
E-invoicing	XML

Key Features

Easy to Use Designer

This gives business users the ability to produce dynamic documents with customised messages and graphics importing data from existing sources. Create invoices, statements, electronic bills and statements quickly and easily.

Personalised Distribution

Generated output can be distributed to print, email, archived to servers and filed into your Document Management (DM) system and are just a few of those used for easy retrieval.

Host System independence

Enterprise for Legal is a non-intrusive solution working independently on your network with minimal impact on your system performance. To your users and system, Enterprise for Legal will be seen as just another printer.
